

Born in Prästbol, Norra Råda fs, Värmland County. From Bolbyn Prästbol at the wedding. Bernhard Bernhardsson, Risäter, showed his sisters Gunilla and Ingeborgs to him the 24 hujus given transport on their sister parts 1/6 in the 1/4 homestead Prästbolstorp or Ås, Råda sn, with whose parts and his own brother castle Bernhard considered himself to own 1 / 3 uti bemälte hemman Ås, whereupon he now wanted to come into use and possession came in with his uncle Jöns Persson at the same time Jöns Persson's son: Nils Jönsson on behalf of his father loudly resisted and disputed. ... Jöns Persson who has lived there since he married his wife Kerstin Jonsdr from the bolby village Prästbol first got (?) (?) Possession on the croft and can therefore his wife's father sal. Per Nilsson to fast there. The landowners in Prästbol Lars Jonsson, Nils Olofsson and Per Jonsson protested against Bernhard Bernhardsson. Their parents had only allowed Jöns Persson for the sake of its wife, who is their sister and relative. [147] Fuller Nils Jönsson in Ås claimed on behalf of his mother's wife Kerstin Jonsdotter's to be allowed to settle with his uncle the customs officer Per Jonsson in Prästbol by the aunts' wives Marit, Gunilla and Karin Jonsdöttar's heirs to Per Jonsson and half of the estate the underlying croft Håkanbol in what Per Jonsson disputed, on the other hand, the other brother, the customs officer Lars Jonsson Wallmen, who also lives on the homestead and pretends to be closer than the sister, lives on Ås another homestead, to solve the siblings' parts that go for sale, both state that they still have a half-brother Nils Jonsson who, on the father's side, cannot have his birthright taken away either. Would thus rather call on sister Kerstin to run without birth, who with her own inheritance can not become a possessing part. Resolution. The court found that the trade between Per Jonsson and his sisters has not yet reached the point where they have issued a letter of purchase, from which one can experience how large the purchase price is and whether the purchase is complete with Per Jonsson closing, unless something has happened that can give wife Kerstin reason her right to birthless yet to guard; For the court for (?) Over Nils Jonsson's application and claim could not comment further.
