Coltons Point
St. Mary's County
Maryland USA

Cemetery notes and/or description:

St. Clement's Manor was built on Longworth Point by Dr. Thomas Gerard who was one of the original settlers of Maryland. Later it was renamed Blackiston house by Dr. Gerard's son-in-law and the name of the area was changed to Colton's Point. The house no longer exists and its site location is not known. The area has been built over with farms and houses.

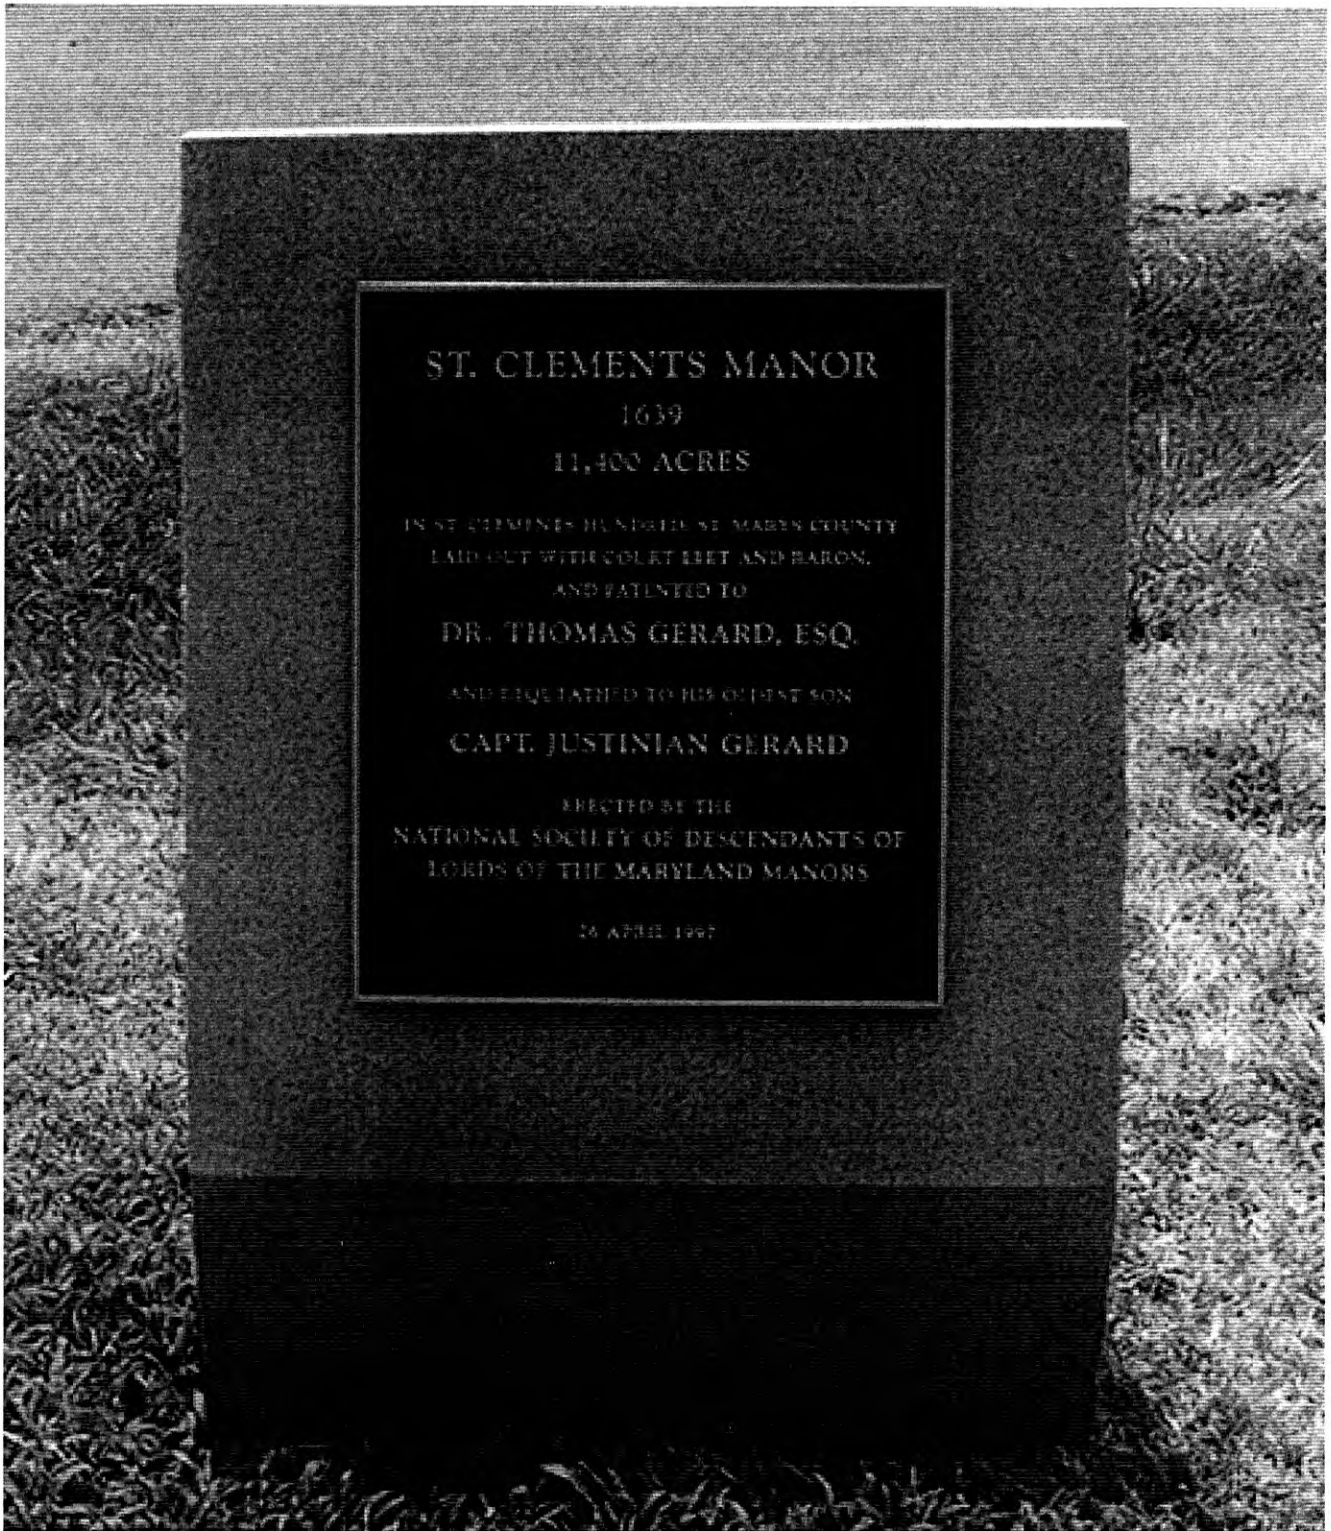

The small family cemetery that was associated with St. Clement's Manor, and in which Dr. Gerard and his wife and others were buried, was lost to erosion of the soil and totally disappeared into the water over 100 years ago.
