Notes for John Slifer

[master2.FTW]

[tree 102.FTW]

[Brøderbund WFT Vol. 4, Ed. 1, Tree #0102, Date of Import: Mar 11, 2000]

He was the Revolutionary Patriot whose daughter, Elizabeth, married into the Arnold line. He is also referred to as John Slifer, Jr in some records. But since he also had a son, John, (Jr, Jr?) the Roman notation is preferred. But there were many spellings of his name - Schleife (DAR papers), Schlife, Shlife, Schleifer, Schleiffer, etc.

More about John II appears under Elizabeth Slifer.

He shouldn't be confused with his son, John Slifer, sometimes listed as John Slifer-III when all three Johns appear together in papers.

Notes for Asenath Gaver

[master2.FTW]

[tree 102.FTW]

[Brøderbund WFT Vol. 4, Ed. 1, Tree #0102, Date of Import: Mar 11, 2000]

"Aseneth" appears in the NSDAR records as the wife of John Schleife, a Revolutionary Patriot. Her last name is not recorded there, however. Various spellings have been observed in different records, one even as Seneth. The solution appears to be in the Bible, as many were named after biblical people in those days. Go back to Genesis 41:45 and the spelling there is Asenath, probably what was intended.

- Let's go with ASENATH -

Ralph Martz, genealogist (recently deceased), believed that she was from the Gaver line in MD. If this is true, it means we have another tree branch to trace back to another immigrant and another(?) country.

Have seen two birth dates: July 23, 1747 and July 24, 1748.
