HOLMES Co.—One of the most exciting and hotly contested divorces and alimony suits that have ever taken place in Holmes county, ended Saturday in Millersburg, having been in progress four days, and upwards of sixty witnesses examined. The parties were Sarah Barnes vs. Enos P. Barnes, and the charge was extreme cruelty. The defendant is a prominent physician of Oxford, in Holmes county, and the family moved in the highest circles. The testimony was decidedly in favor of the plaintiff, and revealed astounding cruelty practiced on the plaintiff, running back almost three years. The decision was reserved by Judge Parsons until this week.
