

She is unmarried in 1741, as well as two of her other three sisters. This generally means that the children are fairly young, and that Thomas Stanton died at a fairly young age. Since Thomas Stanton is considered to have married Sarah Robinson about 1713, it is consistent with the children being young

25