

- 6) Johann Philipp², bapt. 20 Aug 1682. Sponsors were Johann Philipp Ott from Westerhoff, Johannes Bopp from Daisbach, Magdalena—wife of the miller from Burgschwalbach, and Christina Magdalena Hermannin.²
- 7) Anna Margaretha², bapt. 5 Apr 1685. Sponsors were Anna Maria—wife to Johann Heinrich Rauhen, Anna Margaretha Jocksen, Wilhelm Buff, and the tailor "Matthes."

That the ages of Martin Zerbe² and his brother Johann Philipp Zerbe² should be slightly different from those given on the London Lists is not surprising: the London Lists were somewhat erratic, sometimes agreeing to the month with German churchbooks, ages given in lists of Palatines remaining in New York City in 1710-11, and American burial records, and other times being off by as much as thirteen years.²

Johann Martin Zirbe² was confirmed at Kettenbach in 1682. He is listed as a communicant there in 1686, 1687, 1690, 1692 and 1693. On 11 Feb 1697 the marriage of Johan Martin Zirben to Anna Elisabeth, daughter of the late Johannes Jünger from the oilmill, was recorded. Their children baptised at Kettenbach were:

- 1) Johann Henrich³, bapt. 12 Oct 1697. Sponsors were Peter Webeler, Henrich Webeler, Hanna Müllerin and Maria Margaretha Zirbin (5 above).
- 2) Johan Jacob³, bapt. 4 Dec 1698. Sponsors were Georg Zirbe, Martha Catharina Hermann—wife of Martin, and Maria—wife to Herman Redgens (?).
- 3) Georg Peter³, bapt. 22 Jan 1702. Sponsors were Peter Webeler, Georg Jacob Zirbe, Anna Catharina—wife of miller Philipp Schiffmann from Hausen, and Anna Margaretha Kettebachin.
- 4) Johann Japhet³, bapt. 1 Feb 1704. Buried 22 Feb.
- 5) Johann Japhet³ (again), bapt. 24 Jun 1705. The sponsors were Johannes (?), Johannes Japhet Kettenbach, Anna Margaretha Jocksin and Anna Catharina Zirbin.
- 6) Johann Philipp³, bapt. 12 Feb 1708. Sponsors were Melchior Hanstein, Johann Philipp Zissen (?), Elisabeth—wife to Peter Kirperger, and Maria Catharina—the daughter of Emrich Klein from Strintz.

The Rotterdam and London Lists show Martin Zerbe emigrating with four children, while the Kettenbach churchbooks record six children being baptised, with one buried. The burial of the missing child probably went unrecorded at Kettenbach, as my investigator there reported that the Kettenbach churchbooks, 1643-1765, were "very defective with gaps in the records."

Martin Zerbe was enrolled on the Hunter Subsistence Lists for the period 1710-1712.² He was "of Annsberg" when a Palatine volunteer in the Canadian expedition of 1711.² "Marte Server" was naturalized at Albany on 17 Jan 1715/16.² The Simmendinger Register, published in 1717 but actually drawn up as
