

Brooklyn Daily Eagle, 26 November 1889

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Hannah B. Leech.

Mrs. Hannah B. Leech, wife of ex-Alderman John Leech, died at her residence, 354 Livingston street, in this city, suddenly on Saturday morning. Heart failure was the cause of death. Mrs. Leech had resided in Brooklyn all her life, and had passed a happy wedded life of nearly fifty-five years. She was a woman of rare Christian virtues whose whole life had been one of devotion and love for those around her. She was endeared by the strongest ties of affection to a large circle of friends and to her many children and grandchildren. Among the former are Mrs. William Spence, Mrs. Captain Charles C. Duncan, William H. Leech and Alderman elect Richard B. Leech. Her consort, aged 80, survives her, keenly and almost broken heartedly feeling the sad and unexpected bereavement. The funeral services will be held this evening at 8 o'clock at her late residence, 354 Livingston street. The Rev. Lindsay Parker, of St. Peter's Episcopal Church, of which Mrs. Leech was a member, will officiate. The interment will be in the family plot at Greenwood Cemetery to-morrow morning.

TWENTY-SIXTH WARD JEFFERSON CLUB.